DIDI ASKS

Didi Asks is a card game to be upgraded into a mobile application that aims to enhance communication through a journey of questioning and sharing answers while motivated by the joy of playing.

We believe that this type of communication we implement by our game creates safe spaces for people to express themselves away from being judged, create an inclusive environment for strangers to make friends, provide a less tense atmosphere for daters (crushers) to know each other better.

It is a multiplayer game and it can be played by two only as we recommend using it in the dating phase.

The project entered the OCI Lab while we were in our first stages of entering the market.

The project's core contributors:

- Hadeer Ghareeb, Egypt, Project leader
- Amira Abdelsalam, Egypt, co-founder
- Esraa Rayan, Egypt, Graphic designer

Benefits from OCI labs:

- 1- Building a Business Model.
- 2- Product testing that helped us in the packaging development.
